

WEATHER UPSET BRINGS RAIN IN JULY; CROPS SAFE

Showers Sunday First
In July Since 1927
For Bay Region

Splashing down out of a thunderous sky Sunday morning, two sudden rain squalls laid the dust in the Niles district and threatened to halt the apricot harvest, in full swing this week.

Indications of the curious storm were noted during the early morning hours, when flashes of lightning illuminated the sky and distant thunder rolled. The rain, coming abruptly, fell in enormous drops, straight down. Fearing a prolonged downpour, orchardists hastened to cover their drying trays, and called the pickers in from the orchards. The rains ended as quickly as they came, however, with little or no damage reported.

Unstable weather conditions on the Pacific coast, gave rise to line squalls in the northern sections, according to weather bureau reports.

According to records at the Southern Pacific depot here, the rain was the first to fall in July since 1927, when a few drops fell early in the month. The greatest precipitation for July, in the 61 years of the San Jose weather station, was in 1913, when .08 fell on July 22.

In this district, according to longtime residents, the fruit harvest was seriously disturbed in about 1901 by July rains.

Temperatures continued high during the freak storm, with 90 degrees the maximum for the day. On Friday and Saturday, thermometers registered 92 at 2 p. m.

HIGH TEMPERATURES HASTEN APRICOT HARVEST HERE

Temperatures of ninety-three degrees and better during the early part of the week have sent the apricot growers here into one of the fastest harvests in recent years. Cleanup of fruit on the inside of late trees is all that remains in most of the orchards.

Ripening evenly this year, the fruit has remained exceptionally clean in this district. Although there was some loss due to late incursions of brown rot, growers on the whole view the season as a successful one.

Opening prices paid by canners, low at the outset, in the opinion of orchardists, rose very little as the season neared the peak. A top price of $57.50 per ton orchard run, was paid to some growers whose fruit was exceptionally clean and uniformly large.

Prices on dried lots, offered by packers early last week, hit around ten to eleven and one-

THIEVES RANSACK HOME AS FAMILY LOOK AT ECLIPSE

Reporting to police Tuesday morning that thieves had ransacked his Alvarado home sometime during the night, August May, head of the Bank of Alameda County, thinks that the thieves, who escaped undetected with about $500 worth of jewels and furnishings, took advantage of the darkness during the eclipse Monday night, when the Mays were in the back yard viewing the lunar phenomenon.

May and his wife returned to the house when the eclipse was finished, and went directly to bed without turning on the lights. They failed to notice that the place was disturbed until the following morning.

On Monday evening a prowler was frightened from the home of Mrs. James Hunter, at Alvarado, when her screams aroused the neighborhood.

NILES VICTOR IN SECOND HALF BY WIN OVER NEWARK

Three-Game Series for Championship Begins
Next Sunday

Squeezing the winning run across in the ninth inning of a breathtaking contest Sunday, the Niles C. of C's, determined to have a clear shot at the title, defeated the Newark Merchants by a score of 13 to 12. The victory, giving Niles a win in the second half of the South county league play, will necessitate a three-game series with Newark, for the league championship. The first game of the series will be played Sunday at the Newark grounds.

Blanking the Merchants for the first three frames, the Niles sluggers got an early start when they paraded six runs over the plate in the second inning. The tallies were whisked over when C. Pine, Medeiros, and Rose all pounded out two baggers, and Muniz lifted a triple to the boards.

Niles scored again in the third when Tony Duarte came in on Duarte's single. Medeiros scored

JUNIORS TO HAVE PICNIC MEETING ON AUGUST 5

Preparations for Fall activities were the center of discussion Monday night, when the Niles Chamber of Commerce resumed regular meetings after a month's intermission. Thirty members braved the sultry evening to attend.

In the absence of President Sam Kerns, the business session was conducted by Alfred Lanfri, vice president, who opened the evening by calling for reports of standing committees. Chick Arntzen, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported that plans are well along for the first annual moonlight dance, to be sponsored by the civic group on August 17. Arntzen stated that Stonybrook park had been chosen as the place.

Asking that the group bow to the weather man, and shun hot buildings for the next regular meeting, Art Roderick suggested that the organization hold the next session at a canyon picnic ground, where a "mulligan" dinner would be served. The plan met with instant approval, and was voted.

A report was made on preparations for the S. E. S. Holy Ghost, to be held here on August 3 and 4, and in which the juniors will participate. Lanfri called for volunteers to assist Henry Rego, fiesta president, in completion of the dance platform, under construction at the southern end of Second street.

An offer by George Richards, flyer, to photograph the hill sign was accepted by the group.

Business Men's Club Backs Second Move to Get New Fire Unit

Spurred to new efforts by a $25,000 fire at Irvington early last Saturday the Business Men's Club of that city is marshalling its forces this week for the establishment of a fire district. A petition received from the offices of District Attorney Earl Warren yesterday, will be circulated throughout the community.

The effort to form the district will be the second in two years, according to R. J. Wright, club president, who states that the community, in need of proper protection, should pass the measure this time. The previous election lacked 15 votes of carrying. There were 250 votes cast.

With the formation of efficient districts in surrounding towns during the past years an example, the Business Men's Club members feel that it is high time an Irvington unit be formed. There has never been a department there.

The fire Saturday morning, breaking out at about 1:30 a. m., destroyed several buildings and consumed 250 tons of new hay at the Costa dairy, south of Irvington. A new ice machine, loading platform and milk house were among the items counted a total loss. Anthony Azevedo, noticing the blaze, called employees to battle the flames and sent word to neighboring fire departments. The Mission San Jose department responded, but was unable to cope with the terrific blaze which had enveloped the structures. The cause of the fire was undetermined.

On the club committee, to direct the circulation of the new petition, are R. J. Wright, Dr. E. M. Grimmer and Alfred Peixotto.

AUXILIARY POST TO ELECT OFFICERS IN AUGUST

Small attendance at the Tuesday night meeting of the Legion Auxiliary Post, No. 195, will necessitate a continuation of the nomination of officers to the first meeting in August, according to Mrs. Theresa Swartz, president. The meet was held at the Memorial building, Niles.

Five of the nine officers were named, the president said. They are: Mrs. Mary Brazil, president; Mrs. Pearl Wiseman, second vice president; Mrs. Rose Vieux, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Nell Farrington Myers, chaplain and Mrs. Florence Campos, musician. At the next meeting, slated for August 13, the four remaining officers will be nominated and election held.

Present officers: Mrs. Theresa Swartz, president; Mrs. Irma Peterson, first vice president; Mrs. Marie Brazil, second vice president; Mrs. Rose Vieux, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Nell Farrington Myers, chaplain; Mrs. Angie Furtado, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Marie Duarte, marshal; Mrs. Lena Bertolotti, historian and Mrs. Marie Pereira, musician.

Delegates, to attend the Fresno convention from August 11 to 14 were selected Tuesday night. They are: Mrs. Theresa Swartz, Mrs. Rose Vieux and Mrs. Lena Bertolotti. Alternates: Mrs. Marian Zwissig, Mrs. Nell F. Myers and Mrs. Marie Brazil.

Last night, the delegates attended a district meeting at Albany, where the district president was nominated and elected.

SEWER MAIN BREAK IS ATTRIBUTED TO TEMBLOR

Annual inspection of the sewer mains of the Union Sanitary District, including the Centerville and Newark areas, disclosed damage in the Newark section this week, when workmen found about 20 feet of the large main in a badly shattered condition. Officials, unable to account for the break, suggested that one of the small earthquake shocks felt here this year may have been responsible. The break which will cause the first interruption in service for ten years, will necessitate the installation of eight new sections of pipe, according to George Coit, president of the district. He stated that the hard clay formation of the soil around the break, had prevented seepage, and obstruction of the main. The repair work was begun at once.

IRMA HODGES ONE OF SEVEN TO GET SCHOLARSHIPS

One of seven Alameda county students to receive the honor, Miss Irma Hodges, Centerville, was notified last week by California Alumni association officials that she has been awarded an association scholarship to the University of California, at Berkeley. Miss Hodges, graduated from the Washington Union High school this year, was among the leaders of her class.

In addition to her excellent classroom work, Miss Hodges was active in student affairs. Interested in dramatics, she was a member of the cast in numerous school plays. She was a member of the editorial staff of the Hatchet, school publication, and known as one of the most facile writers in the journalism and English departments. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hodges, of Centerville.

According to word from William F. Calkins, of the University Alumni Association news service, the scholarships were selected on the same basis as is used in determining the Rhodes Scholarship holders to Oxford University, England. The standards include consideration of literary and scholastic ability in attainment; qualities of truth, courage, devotion to students, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness, and fellowship; exhibition of moral force and character, and of instincts to lead and take an interest in schoolmates, and physical vigor, as shown by outdoor sports or in other ways.

The scholarships, each amounting to a credit of $180 in board and room expenses, are only for the freshman year, at the end of which the recipients are eligible for the general university scholarships.

Hetchy Pipe Crossings Repaired by Road Crew

Final repairs on the Irvington-Centerville road, where the Hetchy pipeline crosses west of Irvington, are being made this week by state crews. The shattered section has been completely removed and a new foundation laid.

Similar repairs were made recently on the Mission San Jose highway, where the huge pipe crosses after leaving the Irvington portal of the bore.

PUT OUT BONFIRES BEFORE RETIRING SAYS RODERICK

Nightwatchman Arthur Roderick this week issued a warning to residents of Niles, particularly those whose property backs on the alley between First and second streets, to be certain that bonfires and rubbish fires in their yards are out before the family retires for the night.

During the past two weeks, Roderick, while on his rounds in the early morning hours, has twice had to extinguish fires blazing out of "dead" ashes along the alley. He states that the fire hazard from such negligence is great, and that untold damage may result if embers are blown against buildings by night winds.

Stares at Eclipse; Almost Crashes Fence

Losing control of his car momentarily while staring at the total lunar eclipse Monday night, an unidentified motorist narrowly averted a crash after his car had swerved from the highway south of Niles. He admitted that neck-cramping was the cause of his trouble.

The eclipse was plainly visible throughout all of its phases here, due to clear skies. Considerable interest was shown in the phenomenon by local folk.

ROOSTER BATTLES RATTLESNAKE; IS BACKED BY BULLET

Attracted to her chicken yard Sunday by an uproar among her hens, Mrs. R. Carlyle, of Niles, discovered a two-foot rattlesnake squirming across the pen, harassed by a small but determined rooster.

Her husband, called to the scene, put an end to the unique battle by severing the reptile with a rifle bullet. The rattler had six rattles, plus the button.

The last rattlesnake killed in the Niles district, reports show, was that shot by Jack Dewey in 1933, on his place at the foot of Walpert hill.

H. Beck Green Home After Trip to Mexico

Home after an absence of two years, during which time he toured Europe, while on leave from his teaching duties in New York, H. Beck Green, son of Mrs. Fred Mitte, has interesting details to relate of his recent trip to Mexico City, where he spent several weeks before coming to Niles.

Arriving in Niles Tuesday morning from San Diego, where he had stopped over for two days to visit the exposition, Green called on a number of his friends here. He was host at an informal gathering at the Mitte home Tuesday night, when he displayed numerous interesting articles acquired on his trip. He will be in this district for two months, before returning to his work at the Lincoln School and Teachers' College, at Columbia University in New York City.

RETURN HOME

Among Niles people to return over the week-end from San Diego, where they visited the fair, were: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Galvin, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Carr, Mrs. C. H. Franklin, and daughter, and Mrs. J. Zwissig, and children, Bob and Laura Lee.

Mrs. Bert Silveria, who suffered a broken finger in a fall recently, is recovering.

GUITERIZ DENIES GUILT; BOUND TO SUPERIOR COURT

Judge J. A. Silva Sets Bail at $20,000 at Hearing Friday

Pleading not guilty to charges of attempting to derail a fast passenger train at Decoto on June 27, Jesus Guiteriz, Decoto man, was held Friday to answer before the superior court, when he appeared for preliminary hearing at the Niles courthouse. Judge J. A. Silva set bail at $20,000.

Represented by Public Defender Raymond A. Ferreira, Guiteriz denied the charges. Testifying for the people, John E. Cooper, fireman of the engine endangered by Guiteriz' alleged tampering, told of the condition of the switch when examined. He said that it had been opened sufficiently to turn the fast-moving train on to a "house" track, which almost certainly would have resulted in a serious wreck. The train was stopped in time when Cooper and the engineer noticed that the signals were not functioning properly.

The alleged derailment attempt, a felony under section 218 of the California penal code, is punishable by death or life imprisonment, by option of the jury trying the case.

Guiteriz was apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch, after a wrench, found at the broken switch, was identified as property of the suspect.

S. E. S. FIESTA QUEEN WILL BE SELECTED HERE SATURDAY

Tabulation of votes Saturday will end the S. E. S. Holy Ghost queen contest, in which three contestants have been working during past weeks. The judges, according to Henry Regs, Holy Ghost president, will be Judge J. A. Silva, Frank Nunes and one other to be selected. The polling place will be the Niles court house, Rego said.

The three contestants are the Misses Annie August and Lucy Oliver, of Niles and Miss E. Marks, of Centerville. The two lowest will be maids, Rego said. The queen will be crowned by Rev. Father Emmet O'Connor on Sunday, August 3, second day of the Holy Ghost fete.

Construction of the dance floor, behind the Shuckl cannery is almost complete, and excavation for the barbecue pits is under way. There will be meat in abundance it is noted from word that five steers will be butchered for the occasion.

Concessions, dances, auctions and a parade will make the first Niles Holy Ghost one of the liveliest in the district.

Undertake to Raise 3 Rabbits on Eyedropper

Although they haven't feathers, and may feel a little out of place among pedigreed poultry, three baby jackrabbits have found haven at Kimber Poultry Farm, after they were routed out of their burrow Monday by a passing cultivator.

Armed with an eyedropper, the two small Kimber boys, have set about to raise the orphans, who will be turned loose when they attain their majority, to be judged, no doubt, by their ability to elude the neighborhood cats.

Warm Springs Girl Queen of First State Fete; 10,000 Expected

Starting Saturday, the grand two-day I. D. E. S. Holy Ghost fiesta, to be held at the I. D. E. S. home will get under way at Warm Springs with preparations made to accommodate over 10,000 people from all over the state. The Warm Springs home, the former Arthur Curtner ranch, is the state home of the organization. It was purchased last year.

The great festival, according to an ancient Portuguese national legend, is in commemoration of a miraculous deliverance of the populace of the capital city from famine, when the queen, supplicating God to have mercy on her people, offered to give up her crown. She solemnly laid the jeweled crown on the altar of a Lisbon church. At that moment a dove circled over the city then guided a ship, laden with provisions, into the harbor.

In celebration of this deliverance Portuguese people in colonies and settlements everywhere have held a traditional fiesta, when a girl of non-royal class was chosen to receive the crown in appreciation of a good harvest. Based on the background of religious and national tradition, the state I. D. E. S. organization will celebrate for two days, beginning with a barbecue, reception and dancing at the commodious properties acquired in Washington township.

On Sunday morning, under the massive trees at the home, and at a specially erected altar, Father John Leal, of the St. Joseph church, Mission San Jose, will crown Miss Eleanor Goularte, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goularte, as ruler of the first statewide fiesta.

Her father, former manager of the Curtner ranch, now farms nearby. The new queen first to be so honored, is a blue-eyed

Fertilizer for Orchards

In considering a fertilizer program for the orchard, the fact must not be overlooked that the organic matter content of the soil must be increased or at least maintained. An annual coverage crop or an annual application of manure will accomplish this in most orchards. Orchards are frequently fertilized indirectly by means of a cover crop, and a judicious use of fertilizer applied not directly to the trees but to the cover crop itself. This practice is especially desirable with a young orchard that has been planted on rather thin, poor soil. The fertilizer to be used in this case is not just nitrogen, but rather a complete fertilizer containing phosphorus and potassium as well as nitrogen.—Missouri Farmer.

HILL SIGN AID TO PILOTS, SAYS G. RICHARDS

Value of the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce hill sign as a guide to air traffic was made known here last week, when George D. Richards, reserve lieutenant in the army, stated that the huge marker is plainly visible at altitudes from 4000 to 7000 feet. Richards, accompanied by Fred Amaral, of Niles, circled the district, to corroborate the statements of commercial and military pilots that the sign was a distinct aid to navigation in clear weather.

At the request of the junior civic organization, Richards has consented to take aerial photographs of the marker. An enlargement will be presented to the Niles group.

Recently completed, the sign has been entered in a national competition sponsored by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, with a cash prize to be awarded to the organization submitting a description of the best civic improvement.

MADRUGA MAY ASK FORMATION OF RURAL UNIT

Rural fire departments, in the opinion of Frank Madruga, president of the Alameda County Firemen's Association, derive lasting benefit from their association with men from the larger city units, but in addition, could profitably discuss problems peculiar to their own territory.

It is with this in mind that Madruga will suggest in the near future that a Washington township association, to meet quarterly, be formed. He took pains to point out that the rural group, if formed, will in no way interfere with the participation of members in the county association, but rather would give the country departments better opportunity to discuss and digest what they learn from their more experienced fellows.

In speaking of the executive meeting at Alameda last Friday night, Madruga was enthusiastic over the equipment demonstrated for the instruction of the group. He stated that the Alameda department, headed by Chief Tom Lane, is one of the most modern and efficient in the bay district.

The next regular meeting of the association will be held at Neptune beach, Alameda, on August 17. Chief Tom Lane will be host.

Officials of local departments, who attended the Friday meeting were: Chief Joe Pashote and Al Pashote, of Newark; Chief Tony Alves and Assistant Chief Clarence Crane, of Niles; Chief Roland Bendel, of Decoto, and Chief Fred Rogers and Assistant Chief Frank Madruga, of Centerville.

Newly Discovered Hormone Great Benefit To Women Past 45

The age of 45 marks a physiological turning point in a woman's life. At this critical age she becomes cranky and irritable. Everything seems to annoy her. She complains of dizzy spells, burning headaches, hot flushes. These symptoms, doctors say, are due to a deficiency of a certain hormone (gland activator) in her system.

This hormone has been extracted from glands and organs and is being used with remarkable success in thousands of cases. It now may be obtained in tablet form, together with other valuable agents, under the trade name of Zo-ak (orange wrapper) at all good druggists, who will refund your money if you do not feel greatly relieved after taking Zo-ak uninterruptedly for a month.

An interesting booklet, "For Women Who Want to Live," tells more about the hormone and explains many things every married woman should know about. The booklet was written by a distinguished American physician and will be sent to you free in sealed envelope by Zo-ak Co., 58 West 45th St., New York.

The Emeritus Status

Usually the emeritus status implies retirement from all active participation in matters pertaining to the work of an organization or institution, and acceptance of the honor and distinction obligates the recipient to observe the custom. In the absence of definite action by the organization to the contrary, it is assumed that the force of this custom would act as a rule.

Many Aquatic Creatures Blind

Many aquatic creatures that spend their lives in the deeper parts of the ocean are blind from their birth until their death. Cunning sense organs in their skin or on long tentacle-like fin-rays enable them to find their food and their mates and to sense the approach of enemies.

Fall of Meteors

Despite the estimate that 25,000 tons of meteors fall on the earth's surface annually, it would require some 20,000,000,000 years at this rate for meteor "rains" to increase the radius of the earth as much as an inch, according to Dr. C. C. Wylie of the University of Iowa.

PHONE TOLL MEETING AT DECOTO FIRE HOUSE TONIGHT

Delegates from practically all Washington township civic organizations, will gather at the Decoto fire house tonight to meet with representatives of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company concerning revision of telephone rates between local towns, according to Frank Thomas, Decoto Junior Chamber of Commerce president and chairman of the revision committee.

Originally planned for last Friday night, the meeting was postponed because of conflict with the executive board meeting of the Alameda County Firemen's Association, held at Alameda. Numerous local men, members of rural departments, would have been unable to attend the phone toll meeting.

Formed several weeks ago, the organization sponsoring the move to have the five cent toll eliminated between Washington township towns, is made up of representatives of civic units, fire departments, women's clubs and farm bureau groups.

Hybrid Corn Leads Again, Four States Announce

In one of the worst drouth years this country has known hybrid corn scored a knockout victory over ordinary varieties, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture from four corn-belt states.

Co-operating corn breeders at the agricultural experiment stations in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio, after going over their tables on last year's field tests find two important conditions: Good hybrids continued to outyield the best open-pollinated varieties as they have done every year since the tests began; more surprising, the percentage margin in favor of the hybrids was twice as great in 1934 as in 1933.

Where the drouth was bad last year the yields were far below those for 1933, but the significant point is that the hybrids not only held their percentage lead under such adverse conditions but actually doubled that lead, explains Dr. Merle T. Jenkins, who is in charge of corn breeding for the department. In Iowa, for instance, the open-pollinated varieties planted at Ames dropped from 66 bushels per acre in 1933 to 16.7 bushels per acre last year. The hybrids dropped from 82 to 25.

Grades for Cream

Tentative grades for churning cream have recently been issued by the United States Department of Agriculture for the use of the trade. These will be tested out in practice before being officially adopted. The grades represent a classification of cream according to its value for the manufacture of butter of each important adoption and use of the grades with proper differentials in price for the different grades should afford a real incentive and give definite encouragement to producers to produce cream of better quality, say department officials.

Dark honey and white honey have the same food value.

Milk bottles first appeared in 1880; they did not become standard until 1900-1910.

Irrigation has permitted the increase of acreage planted to cotton in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

The gas given off from naphthalene crystals, the base of moth balls, is deadly to the grubs of the Japanese beetles in the soil.

Eight pounds of salt is enough to cure one hundred pounds of trimmed pork. Eight pounds of salt, two pounds of sugar, and two ounces of saltpeter is a standard recipe.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports 450 cubic feet in a ton of wild hay and 470 cubic feet in a ton of alfalfa. These figures are for hay that has been in the stack at least 90 days.

Better Breakfasts

YOU don't have to wait till you're forty to begin life. You can begin it at 6:40 or 7:40 any fine morning if your breakfast is the sort that makes a new man of you. Toast and coffee won't do the trick. It may tide you over, but for getting out and doing things you'll need food that gives energy and inspiration. Try this breakfast that starts off with a different fruit cup, features corned beef hash with a crisp crust on top, and then provides a fluffy poached egg, and then proceeds with English muffins, toasted golden brown enough to suit an Englishman, and served with a tart home-made plum jam. And of course coffee—vacuum packed and steaming hot.

ALASKAN BEARS TO GET SQUARE DEAL

Better Opportunity to Enjoy Honey and Molasses.

Washington.—Uncle Sam is going to see that the famous brown bears of Admiralty Island, Alaska, get a better opportunity to enjoy their molasses and honey.

The Agricultural department has announced that the forest service, the biological survey and the Alaska game commission will work co-operatively on a plan to co-ordinate management of the bears with a "well-rounded use and enjoyment of other commercial, recreational and scenic resources of the island."

Principal features of the plan include: Areas needed for protection of the bear will be closed to hunting. Closed areas will be extended, or replaced by others, as changing conditions warrant.

Closed areas will include general recreation areas; sections with outstanding heavy stocking of bears in the spring when the cubs are small; heavily stocked areas where bears may be observed by naturalists, photographers and the public; and lands in the vicinity of logging camps, trollers' camps and other centers of seasonal occupancy, where closure may be advisable to assist in controlling casual or illegal killing.

The department said limited bear hunting may be permitted, subject to bag limits and to closure for entire seasons to prevent jeopardizing the bear population. Permitted yearly kill never will be allowed to exceed the yearly net increase.

A system of trails, portages, shelter cabins and observation blinds will be constructed for naturalists and recreationists.

LARGEST FISH TAKEN EACH MONTH GETS CLUB AWARD

"The one that got away," when referring to bass caught by the members of the Tangle and Twist Fishing Club, Mission San Jose sportsmen's organization, is no help when competing for the regular monthly prize given by the club for the biggest fish caught. Thus Harley Justus, secretary of the club, outlines the basic rule on which the awards are made. The fish must be brought to the tape measure and the scale.

Organized last year, the club has a membership of fifteen, all Mission San Jose men, Justus said. He stated that the roster will be expanded to include members from other towns this year. Officers are Bert Wallace president, Fritz Fernandez, vice president; Harley Justus, secretary and Joe Ferreira, treasurer.

In addition to the monthly prizes, awarded for the biggest fish caught each thirty days, the club gives an annual prize, for the largest, finny specimen brought in by any member during the year.

Oats Leads as Feed for Horses, Says an Expert

Oats are the best grain for the horse; they are light, palatable, and balanced feed, asserts a writer in the Missouri Farmer. Corn is a good grain, but is used to best advantage if it forms only from one-third to one-half of the grain ration of the brood mare. If wheat is fed, it must be given ground or rolled and in small quantities. Barley is a good horse feed; it is more bulky than wheat and more nearly like oats than corn in composition. Barley is often cooked and fed once or twice a week in the evening for its medical qualities. In most instances it is preferable to grind or roll barley before feeding. Bran is an almost essential horse feed and acts as a regulator and a preventive of overfeeding. It is bulky and palatable and lightens the ration. Soy beans and cowpeas are relished by horses and serve as a useful addition to the grain feed for mares in foal. They are relatively rich in protein and consequently combine well with corn.

Temporary Pastures

Winter wheat may be seeded in the spring at the rate of two bushels to the acre for a good early summer pasture, says the Prairie Farmer. Oats seeded heavily (three to four bushels) will supply a lot of feed during June, July and even August if the rainfall is sufficient. Sudan grass is the most dependable crop for midsummer pasture. If seeded shortly after corn planting time it will be ready for pasture early in July and will furnish feed until frost. If alfalfa, clover or grass seed mixtures are sown with oats or wheat, the seeding will come along better when the grain crop is pastured than it will if cut for grain. Amount of grain seed should be reduced if grass and clovers are seeded with it.

Alfalfa Can Take Red Clover's Site

Seed Is Reported to Be in Excess of the Normal Requirements.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.—WNU Service. Alfalfa may be able to pinch hit this year for another member of the legume family—red clover. Estimates show only enough clover seed available to plant about three-fourths of a normal acreage. But supplies of alfalfa seed are in excess of normal requirements. On soils that are not acid alfalfa can be grown wherever red clover is adapted, although each has its advantages.

In the emergency, alfalfa can substitute for clover in the Ohio valley and states to the north and east, and in the Upper Mississippi valley on soils well supplied with lime wherever farmers customarily depend upon red clover for hay and pasture. In the opinion of H. L. Westover, alfalfa specialist in the United States Department of Agriculture. Because of the dry weather last summer much of this area produced alfalfa seed and adequate supplies should be available from domestic sources. In the southern part of this section, Kansas common will usually survive ordinary winters with no serious injury, but to the north a more cold-resistant alfalfa as Grimm or Northern common is recommended. Winter killing is the factor which limits the northern production of any variety.

On the well-adapted soils alfalfa may be sown alone; when conditions are less suitable, a mixture of alfalfa and timothy has given good results. In favorable seasons good stands may usually be expected from seedings made with small grain as a nurse crop.

Under favorable conditions alfalfa is as productive the first year as red clover and should produce as much or more the second season. Alfalfa, once established, produces greater yields, furnishes excellent hay and pasture, is more drought resistant, and, being a perennial, does not need reseeded every year as does clover.

Prep Students' Racket Gets Nipped in the Bud

Houston, Texas.—Too much talk spoiled the scheme of four high school students to pick up spending money through sale of examination questions.

They obtained the questions from a teacher and began taking orders at $1 a copy.

"We weren't going to release any of the copies until late in the day before examination time," one of the four explained.

"If we had started selling them early, the kids who bought them could sell them on their own hook."

Many "orders" were taken, but San Jacinto High School Director, J. O. Webb, heard of the scheme before any copies were sold, and brought the youngsters up on the carpet.

Modern Handling Makes Milk Safe

Cleanliness Most Important to Keep the Herd Free From Disease.

By J. M. Brannon, Dairy Bacteriologist, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

Adoption of milk ordinances by nearly 600 municipalities of the country during the past ten years is only one of the many marked advances that have been made to raise the sanitary quality of the consumer's milk supply. Milk handled by modern methods is probably among the safest foods on the market.

Just now the problem of dairy-men and farmers is to keep down bacterial growth in milk at a time of the year when the weather is getting warmer. This means cooling the milk just as quickly as possible to as low as 50 degrees. Consumers, too, have a responsibility in getting milk off the doorstep before it warms up to the point where bacteria can start to grow.

Fortunately, pasteurization is becoming widespread. By this process all the disease germs that are likely to get into milk can be destroyed.

Tuberculosis, the best known of the diseases transmitted from unhealthy cows to man, has been given a setback through tuberculosis eradication campaigns. Illinois and 17 other states are now accredited as having 98 per cent of their dairy cows free from this disease.

A campaign is also now being waged against Bang's disease, which is associated with undulant fever that is transmitted to humans through milk. Still another disease organism against which farmers and dairymen must be on guard is the one which causes mastitis in the cow and septic sore throat and possibly other troubles in humans. Typhoid, scarlet fever and diphtheria are other diseases against which the dairy industry must guard.

Some organisms must be fought not because they cause diseases but because they give the milk off-flavors and other disagreeable characteristics.

Clean barns, clean cows and clean utensils coupled with the prompt cooling of milk immediately after it comes from the cows, are the mainstays of the dairy industry in producing a higher quality product.

Wet Spots Cause of Farm Waste; Drainage Needed

The drainage of wet spots in otherwise good fields is probably the most worthy improvement that can be made on land today, says Prof. A. M. Goodman of the New York State College of Agriculture.

"These wet spots not only waste seed and fertilizer," he points out, "but they cause greater waste in plowing and harrowing. They cause planting trouble, they interfere with cultivation, and are a nuisance at harvest time."

Usually a few rods of small-sized drain tile, laid so that it is about two feet deep under the lowest part of these wet holes and with a slope of four to six inches to every 100 feet in length, is all that is needed to clear up such a hole.

The backfill over the tile is one of the most essential things to keep in mind. The land did not drain before because the water could not get through the subsoil. Do not put this impervious subsoil back directly over the tile. Place sod, surface soil, and stubble, at least one foot deep, directly over the tile; and put the subsoil, that has come out of the bottom of the ditch near the surface of the ground.

First Penitentiaries

The first penitentiary was founded by the influence of the Friends of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia in 1786, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News. This was followed soon after by the New York prisons at Sing Sing and Auburn. In the Philadelphia penitentiary the system of solitary confinement prevailed, but the New York methods imposed silence rather than solitude, and on this latter plan were based the penitentiaries of other states, which soon began to be established. The prison system throughout the country became noted for its humane discipline.

Butter Fat Content Varies

Carefully checked tests show that the butterfat content of the milk from the same herd of cows varies sharply from day to day. Errors in testing can account for only about two-tenths of 1 per cent, but the actual variation is often as much as 1 per cent from one day to another. Such variation results from a number of factors. Weather conditions have a marked effect as does the feed given the cattle. Some breeds show a greater variation than others, and the time between milkings and the completeness of the milkings also have their effects. Also tests of morning's milk are usually lower than those of night's milk.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

Object lessons to youths who would embark on a life of crime are the grayheads that appear in the police line-up at headquarters. For most of them, the end of the trail means either prison bars, cold gray walls and uniforms—or a grave over on Hart's island where sleep the homeless and the nameless. Far different are they from the flashy young racketeers who infest the street corners and who live without honest toil. Yet almost invariably, the start was the same. There were good clothes and bright lights—for a time. Then came those gray walls and the routine of prison life—for a long time. As the years passed, the bright lights became a mere flicker and the gray walls of longer duration. A police record is a cumulative thing—when it comes to serving sentences. For instance, under the laws, a second offender may be given twice as long a sentence for exactly the same offense as a first offender.

The old-timers, provided they have not "gone stir simple"—become simple-minded through confinement and monotony—know that. But there is this trouble. Having made the start, they can't turn back. True, there are men who, having paid their debt to society through prison terms, do not repeat their first mistakes. Some who have risen subsequently in their communities have memories of prison routine. But none can truthfully say that graduation from a penal institution has been a help to them. Rather it has been a handicap. As for those of less strong will, they continue in their course until death finds them a number instead of a name. Or they perish in some miserable hide-out while trying to escape the law.

Recently, there appeared in the line-up an old man known as "Crying John." That name was given him because he has succeeded in crying himself out of many scrapes, an ability to shed real tears being part of his stock in trade. Though he has been arrested 36 times, he has served but seven years. He is also said to be different from ordinary criminals in that he has a bank account. At the moment, he is under indictment for a swindle. Because of his record, if convicted, he will go to prison for a term of years. As he is seventy-six, the chances are excellent that he will die behind bars. So what good to him is his ability to cry and his money in the bank?

A newspaper man becomes acquainted with many different kinds of people. So, included in my acquaintance was a safe robber known as a "good man"—the term having nothing to do with morals since it merely means that he was proficient in his outlawry. Yet, figuring his illegal takings and dividing them by prison terms, he found his income had been less than $500 a year—and he told me that as he was starting to Leavenworth to begin a ten-year term.

Somehow, I feel sorry for Walter. He isn't a crook, but he got mixed up with crooks. When the big drive against known criminals was in progress and the basement of headquarters was filled with prisoners, Walter, a waiter, got permission to sell sandwiches to the captives. Full of hope, he went over with a big tray containing $12 worth of eatables. He came back with $7.65 cash. Some of his customers had obtained rebates without his knowledge and the difference came out of Walter's pocket.

Possibly, a snicker might come in good here. One of the young bloods of the bright lights imbued so much of that which is labeled "bottled in bond" that he passed out. He woke up in his own apartment with all his possessions safe and thought everything was all right until he looked into the glass. Then he discovered he was the possessor of a beautiful shiner. Not daring to face his friends, he remained a prisoner indoors until nightfall. Then he hurried to a gentleman who attends to such things and applied for treatment—only to learn that instead of having been made by a fist, the mouse merely had been painted on by some joking friend. That's a sample of Broadway humor.

Friendly Interest

SOME find the Ninth ward merely an unpleasant conglomeration of smells, fruit peels, push-carts, kids and none-too-clean clothes on fire-escapes.

But they are not the Ninth warders. For them it is an oasis in a cold city; a dowdy, fat mother holding forth a friendly interest for the good, bad and indifferent among her sons and daughters.

Solomon Brady Isaacs, a gentleman of mixed parentage, found that out. Solly had, at one time, been the hope of the ward with his broad street and school education topped by a not-so-broad correspondence course in law, which enabled him to skin by the bar examinations.

From his mother Solly inherited a fine mat of red while his father contributed a pudgy form and astute mind. By his own efforts he set up the combination behind a second-hand desk and gold-leaf lettering, "Attorney-at-Law," on the window.

It was a moment of pride to his father when he opened the office and his feelings were shared by the ward, up one block and another. They dutifully brought their paltry law cases to him, were surprised that he expected pay, did not pay him, and after some months the landlord found it necessary to carry out eviction proceedings for which case he did not hire Solly.

Solly evacuated the ward in bitter anger and went through a four-year siege as law clerk in a downtown office. There his education broadened to include intimidation and coaching of witnesses, the lucrative profession of framing alibis and disposing of "hot" bonds; in short, the manipulation of justice—at a price.

He scraped and saved through those years, gathering a clientele, nursing a dream of revenge.

One day in June, when the smells, fruit peels, push-carts, kids and clothes were most evident, Solly returned, preceded by a small van of new furniture which went into the

Fossils Show Antarctic Was Once Subtropical

New York.—Fossil remains, believed to be between 60,000,000 and 100,000,000 years old, brought from the antarctic by Lincoln Ellsworth, offer evidence that the south polar area at one time enjoyed a subtropical climate, in the opinion of Dr. Chester A. Reeds, curator of geology and fossil invertebrates at the American Museum of Natural History. Doctor Reeds has been studying the specimens since Mr. Ellsworth's return a few days ago.

The fossils represent 50 different species of molluscs, abundant during the age of reptiles, Doctor Reeds explained. His investigation revealed that the fossil collection included some specimens of vegetable life, as yet unidentified, and some volcanic rocks and lava.

Most of the volcanic stones were covered by sulphur fumes. An ancient piece of sandstone also had a red coloring, indicating a process of oxidation over a long period—another proof of a warm climate.

Sun's Rays Are Hotter in Winter Than Summer

Cambridge.—The heat from the sun's rays is greater in winter than in summer, if measurements are taken with the sun at the same altitude above the horizon, according to observations made at the Blue Hill meteorological observatory of Harvard.

The cold winter weather is due to the few hours of sunlight and the low average angle at which the rays strike the earth, not to any cooling of the sun's rays, according to Dr. Bernhard Haurwitz, research assistant at the observatory.

Doctor Haurwitz attributes the increase in heat to three factors; the fact that the earth is nearer the sun at this season; the diminution of water vapor which absorbs solar radiation; and the decrease in the amount of dust in the air which also cuts off part of the heat.

whole second floor of the newly renovated Lowenthal building.

He sat behind curtained windows, grinning down spitefully on the staring faces of erstwhile neighbors. Then he turned on the sallow youth, newly appointed guardian of the outer office.

"All cases from the Ninth ward paid in advance and double rate," the little lawyer instructed savagely. "I'll show 'em. And every afternoon you go out. Find who owes money to which. Get 'em to sue. Make 'em mad. Make Mr. Ginsburg, at the Kash and Karry grocery, collect from everyone who owes him money. Make Silversteins stop giving credit at the warehouse. Scare 'em!"

His eyes blazed viciously. For six months an insidious influence gnawed within the ward. It was carefully guided and superintended by the red-headed man behind the curtained windows in the Lowenthal building.

"I hear Mr. Ginsburg is having a hard time of it. A bad thing when a family man goes astray."

"Who said that?"

"The boy who works for Solly Isaacs. He let it slip. I know he didn't mean to. He bit his lip, like this."

Bad days, very bad days for the ward with friend against friend, and even old man Isaacs suspected of handling stolen goods.

In the midst of it the little lawyer watched the growing havoc and expanded his business of aiding criminals through loopholes of law. His neighbors, unsuspecting victims of his malignant hate, were proud of his comeback. They watched his meteoric rise with wonder, without too great curiosity, but they did watch.

The people on Grimm street knew the back of the Lowenthal building and could see certain skulking figures go in the alley.

As thoughts will rise to murmurs and murmurs rise to official ears, there came a time when the plumbing in the Lowenthal building suddenly stopped and workmen must mess through Solly's private offices, much to his irritation, secretly leaving little hidden transmitters.

Detectives listening from another part of the building, making notes of Solly's indiscretions and sins, were the indirect cause of Mr. Ginsburg shaking his head solemnly before Mrs. Breeden some four months later.

"I hear Solly Isaacs is on bookkeeping at the prison," he said. "You remember Solly? Of course. Funny about him; a quiet, harmless, nice young fellow. Ah, if we had only known, we might have warned—" "You never can tell, Mr. Ginsburg. Would you mind charging that?"

"Glad to, Mrs. Breeden."

"And I'll be in about the old account on Wednesday."

Mr. Ginsburg smiled, bowed and did not ask which Wednesday.

The ward produced its smells, carts, kids and clothes. Nothing had changed, except that Solly Isaacs was "on bookkeeping" at the prison. Mr. Ginsburg dismissed his sad thoughts abruptly and went back to stacking peaches; carefully turning the bright and rosy side toward the public.

Control of Suez Canal

Although the British government holds about seven-sixteenths of the about 57 per cent of the total traf-

Pinned beneath his car when it overturned on the March creek

Anthony Enos investigated.

In a minor crash at the north on Rose's single in the fourth, to Rose connected for another triple in the fifth frame, to score

C. Pine and Medeiros. The last Niles run was squeezed over in the ninth, after Newark tightened down in the sixth, seventh and eighth.

After scoring two in the fourth and fifth, and one in the sixth, Newark seemed to be away to the races when W. Robinson's homer was followed by River's home run.
Lazzarine scored ahead of the latter. In the eighth frame Newark again forged ahead, this time to even the score, when L. Pine misjudged Solto's fly, which went over his head for a home run.
Dutra, in the field for Niles, let Lazzarine's fly go for a homer a few seconds later, and the score was tied.

Ray Duarte, on the mound for Niles after a long layoff, pitched good ball for eight frames. He tired in the eighth after giving sixteen hits and eleven runs.
Duke Dutra, taking the mound in the ninth, fanned two, gave on hit and one run.

Muniz, Rose and Ray Duarte led the hitters for Niles, while W.
Robinson, H. Robinson and Lazzarine were the best for Newark.
The contest climaxed a hard fought second half, in which Newark maintained top position from the very start.

Death Valley Skull Shows Up Experts

Washington.—Discovery of the skull of a Titanotherium in Death Valley has proved that scientists may be wrong.

Noted scientists had predicted that no fossils ever would be found in the valley. The Titan-otherium, a gigantic rhinoceros-like animal, apparently belonged to the eocene or oligocene period.

Members of the Death Valley national monument made the discovery. Shortly afterward, a group of scientists from the California Institute of Technology unearthed another skull of the same type of mammal.

It marked the first time that the skull of a Titanotherium had been found west of the Rockies.
In addition, but once previously had any fossil of this family of mammals been discovered in the region.

Dear Mrs. Sloan:
Your letter of July 6th and enclosures is received. The exhibits are very interesting and I appreciate your sending them to me.
Too many of our farmers refuse to put up a fight to save their homes. I was glad to see that California farmers marched to the Capitol and obtained a state moratorium from the legislature.

Congressman Lemke and I are working hard trying to obtain favorable consideration on our new moratorium bill and refinancing bill. Both of them are on the calendar of the Senate and I hope that we will be able to get them passed. The Farmers Union representatives here in Washington have been doing some very good work in trying to get these and other farm bills passed and I wish we had many more like them down here.

With best wishes, I am,
Yours truly,
(Signed) LYNN J. FRAZIER.
